PLAINFIELD, N. J. (AP)—An official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said Wednesday night his 400,000 member organization was waging a campaign to prevent Sen. J. William Fulbright D-Ark. from being named secretary of state.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is one of those being mentioned for the top cabinet post in the incoming administration of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

His appointment "would be one of the most colossal blunders of any administration," said John A. Morsell of New York assistant to the NAACP's executive secretary. Morsell told a Plainfield civil rights rally that Fulbright "gratuitously went far beyond the Southern position in attacking integration" when he signed the Southern Manifesto, a petition condemning the Supreme Court's 1954 decision against segregated public schools.

Morsell said the NAACP trusted Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus more than it trusted Fulbright.

"At least we know where Faubus stands," he added.

He urged civil rights advocates to telegraph Kennedy their views on Sen. Fulbright and said the NAACP's chapters were making known their opinions.

"The secretary of state has to deal with the nonwhites of the world," said Morsell. "The United States cannot afford the appointment of a spokesman for segregation."

Mansfield to Be House Floor Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas' two senators are agreed that the next senate Democratic leader probably will be Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Sens. John L. McClellan and J. William Fulbright said Mansfield is the logical choice to succeed Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson D-Tex., vice president-elect.

Mansfield served as Democratic whip under Johnson during the latter's tenure as Senate majority leader.

Fulbright speculated that Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., might be chosen to succeed Mansfield as party whip provided that Humphrey isn't a member of a liberal group insisting on a rules change at the start of the session.

Humphrey, unaware of the qualification voiced by Fulbright, said today any effort to change the rules should wait until the Kennedy administration has its feet on the ground.

Some liberal senators have said they will seek at the beginning of the session to change the Senate rules to make filibusters more difficult.

Fulbright said he believes Mansfield, whom he classifies as a neutral, would not favor such a rules change and would not want to see a fight erupt early in the session over such a move.

Fulbright said he hopes no serious effort is made by the liberal group to force a change in Senate rules.

A token effort would be one thing, he said, but a serious fight would "take at least 30 days at the start of the session and split the Senate."

Fulbright, who attended the NATO parliamentary meeting in Paris, plans to leave for Arkansas late this week to fulfill a batch of speaking engagements.

Utility Cost Survey Asked by Lawmaker

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Plans to halt operations at a Reynolds Metals Co. plant at Arkadelphia brought a call Wednesday from Saline Rep. Virgil Fletcher for a survey of gas and electric costs in Arkansas.

The University of Arkansas Industrial and Research Extension Center will be asked to look into energy costs, including rates for electricity and gas, Fletcher said.

"I think the legislature and the people ought to know if our energy rates to industrial customers are pricing us right out of the competitive market," Fletcher said.

"If we lose industry, we lose people and the utilities lose domestic consumers as well as industrial consumers."

Reynolds announced previously it would halt operations at its aluminum reduction plant at Arkadelphia Jan. 1.

James C. Black reduction division general manager for Reynolds, said Wednesday that Reynolds was unable to avoid a temporary suspension of operations because Arkansas Power & Light Co. and Southwestern Power Administration had been unable to find any feasible basis for lowering power rates to Reynolds.

Officials of the company had said previously its operating cost at Arkadelphia was higher than at its other facilities.

Two Injured in Accident Here Today

At Hazel and Second Streets this morning an auto driven by Mrs. Lillian Ringo, crashed into a small Volkswagen occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Houston, City Officers reported.

Mr. Houston sustained rib injuries and Mrs. Houston suffered a leg injury. An Onkorest ambulance took them to a local hospital for treatment.

Officers Moses and Clark charged Mrs. Ringo with running a stop sign. The thing car was only lightly damaged but there was heavy damage to the Houston vehicle.

Officers Rowe and Ward investigated an accident at the Highway 4 and 67 Junction yesterday in which a lumber truck ramed into a small trailer being pulled by R. F. Butler.

The Petit Jean Lumber Co. truck pulled onto Highway 67, its brakes failed and it hit the trailer. The truck was driven by Stanley Clay. Nobody was injured.

Criner also was charged with gaming. Officers said the shell was loaded with birdshot and that several pellets struck Criner in the shoulder. He was not considered seriously injured. The incident occurred around midnight.

Trial Ordered for Americans

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Two Americans accused of slaying the owner of a Florida charter boat and stealing his craft were ordered Wednesday to be tried Dec. 12.

Ordered held following a preliminary hearing were Alvin Table Jr., 25, of Torrance, Calif., and William Sees, 23, of Blount, Ark.

They're charged with slaying Angus Boatwright, 55, after luring his boat to a Bahamas island by a distress signal.

Williams Gets Job of Handling African Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today picked Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan to be assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

Kennedy called the job second in importance to no other position in the new administration.

It was his first major appointment outside of his White House staff.

Kennedy made the announcement on the doorstep of his Georgetown home with Williams standing at his side. They had conferred at a breakfast meeting.

Williams, who has served six terms, will retire as governor of Michigan Jan. 1.

The announcement bore out advance indications that Kennedy had passed the talking stage and was at the point of making actual official assignments.

In addition to Williams, he had appointments today with Robert A. Lovell, former secretary of Defense; Connecticut's Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff, and Rep. Stuart J. Udall, D-Ariz. All have figured in Cabinet and sub-Cabinet talks.

Kennedy and Williams stood without topcoats, or hats in freezing weather while Kennedy read a statement.

"I have asked Gov. Williams to accept a position of responsibility second to none in the new administration — assistant secretary of state for Africa," he said.

"African countries make up one quarter of the nations in the General Assembly of the United Nations. The continent of Africa is now a giant testing ground to determine whether freedom can be maintained in conditions where great masses of people live on the marginal edge of existence struggling against illiteracy, disease, malnutrition and civil division."

Kennedy went on to say that the fate of Africa now is the object of "a giant Communist offensive," and that its future "will affect vitally the security of every citizen of the United States."

When Kennedy concluded his statement Williams read one saying he is ready to serve the United States "wherever and in whatever capacity I can best serve and I am called upon to serve."

Williams returned Monday from a tour of Argentina and Brazil with a number of other governors.

N. O. Women Manhandle a Sit-in Leader

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Women screening insults—manhandled a university student today in front of an integrated William Frantz School, saying the youth led recent downtown sit-in demonstrations.

"Jew bastard, nigger lover," they screamed as they shoved and kicked Sydney Goldfinch, son of a Protestant minister.

Police rescued him.

All the way to a police car, the women taunted. "I hope you have a bunch of mulatto grandchildren," one yelled.

Police rescued George Drayfus, a professor of law at Louisiana State University and President of the American Civil Liberties Union in Louisiana.

Three other youths accompanied Goldfinch and received police protection. Goldfinch is a Tulane University student.

Goldfinch shook his head. "I didn't think they'd recognize me," he said.

A few minutes earlier, the same women pickets failed to keep a young minister from taking his daughter and two other white children into William Frantz.

Some of the women demonstrators accused reporter Jerry Hopper of the New Orleans Times-Picayune of hitting them with a camp stool. Police told Hopper he would have to leave the area or they would have to arrest him.

Earlier, one woman hit a reporter on the back when she was trying to keep television cameras away.

Two newsmen on leave from Time and Life magazines, filming a documentary on the situation to be shown on television, were ordered by police to leave the William Frantz area "because they were causing trouble."

Goldfinch and three Negroes were arrested Dec. 7 in the sit-in demonstrations at a downtown lunch counter.

This small crack in a nearly total boycott came in the wake of a federal court refusal to abandon integration in New Orleans.

The Rev. Lloyd Foreman, a Methodist clergyman, evaded the picketing and jeering women at William Frantz. He took the three children in the back door.

When pickets ran screaming around the building, the one Negro girl who attends William Frantz walked into the front door.

Mrs. James Gabrielle brought her daughter, Yolanda, into William Frantz early, avoiding the disturbance that brought police protection earlier.

This put four white children and one Negro girl inside the school today. Only the Foreman and Gabrielle girls entered the school with the Negro girl Wednesday.

Bystanders reported no white children inside McDonogh No. 19 school, the other integrated building.

Although a three-judge panel in U.S. District court issued temporary injunctions against interference with integration by about 700 state officials, the Louisiana Legislature remained defiant, and "re-stated its theory of interposition, which places the sovereignty of the state between the federal government and the people."

Demonstrations increased at one of the integrated schools Wednesday after the ruling.

"It doesn't make a damn," a woman demonstrator shouted. "We are going to have segregated schools."

Two women were knocked down as police shoved back members of a jeering, boating crowd who sought to follow a white mother taking her daughter home from the William Frantz School.

Newsman said the demonstration appeared to be the most bitter since the march by more than 1,000 persons on the City Hall and School Board Building Nov. 1. Those demonstrators were dispersed by police and firemen.

The legislature at Baton Rouge, incensed by the federal court ruling, moved to set up a voluntary private school system through grants in aid for the children who wouldn't attend segregated schools.

The State Senate also will consider a House-approved resolution reaffirming the state's stand on segregation and interposition. The latter policy, overruled by the federal judges as unconstitutional, seeks to place the sovereignty of the state between the federal government and the people.

All 76 members of the House present at the session approved the renewed state rights challenge to the federal courts.

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion said the ruling will be appealed.

The Orleans Parish School Board also directed its attorney, Samuel I. Rosenberg, to appeal the decision to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The board wants a final affirmation of the decision in order to obtain a $12 million loan from New Orleans banks to pay its teachers. The loan would be repaid with state school revenues which the legislature has sought to keep from the board.

The banks have been reluctant to lend money to the board in view of the legislature's action transferring control of New Orleans school funds from the board to the lawmaking body.

U. S. Has an 'Expert' on Everything

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government, as you know, has an expert on everything and I've just been talking with the expert on female figures.

There are, of course, a lot of guys, both in and out of the government, who think they are experts on this subject. But I can tell you they are not in the same class with Mansfield Lonic of the Commerce Department.

Lonic, who is manager of standardization projects in the Commodity Standards Division, has made a career out of sizing up women. What he knows about women's figures would fill a book, a copy of which I now have before me.

It is entitled "Body Measurements for the Sizing of Women's Patterns and Apparel" and it is what Lonic calls the "magnum opus" of his 15-year study of the female body.

I want to make it clear, however, that Lonic's interest in this field is of an abstract nature. He is a very circumspect gentleman, who would be embarrassed by any suggestion that his work is anything more than technical.

He has devoted most of his time to compiling and correlating statistics gathered from a survey in which 10,000 women were

Water Rises About Ship Aground

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP)

Water rose higher and higher in the holds of a grounded freighter today, and her captain indicated concern over the plight of his ship and the 14 persons aboard.

Twelve crewmen, Capt. Eduardo Trivizas and his wife, an expectant mother, have spent two nights aboard the Francisco Morazan in gale-lashed Lake Michigan. She piled onto the rocks off South Manitou Island about 32 air miles northwest of this Michigan city Tuesday night.

The Coast Guard hoped the weather would improve enough today to allow rescue and salvage operations.

Shortly before dawn, the Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw, patrolling nearby, radioed the Liberian freighter asking her status. The captain answered, "Water in the hold is coming higher and higher and we are pumping all we have. We are still pounding on the bottom. It stopped for about an hour, but through the night it was pretty bad."

Then he added, "I'm afraid we can't..." And static cut off the remainder from shore stations.

There was no immediate reaction from the Mackinaw and the cutter Mesquite, both steaming nearby.

Helicopters and amphibious planes stood by at the Traverse City Coast Guard air station.

The 246-foot Morazan was bound from Chicago to Rotterdam with a general cargo. She was racing to beat a St. Lawrence Seaway closing deadline when gale winds struck last Tuesday night.

Her call for help indicated she was blown off course in the Manitou Strait channel. Rocks trapped the vessel about 300 yards south of the 5,000-acre island.

Final Count on Amendments

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A local option school closing measure was rejected by Arkansas voters by more than three to one, and three other proposals were defeated by about two to one in the Nov. 8 general election, official tabulations at the Secretary of State's office showed Wednesday.

Proposed Amendment 52, the school closing proposal, was voted down 307,251 to 100,145. It carried in only Howard County.

Amendment 50, which would have allowed salary increases for public officials, was beaten 232,115 to 14,843.

A 214,146 to 167,244 defeat was recorded for Amendment 51, which would have increased the taxing power of cities.

A proposed minimum wage law, Initiated Act 1, lost by 242,804 to 153,86.

DOROTHY DIX

Thrice-Divorced Husband
Headache for Wife

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I was 27 years old with three little girls, babies, when their father died from auto injuries. I got insurance and bought a home. I helped care for Mother and Father till they died. After that I started going out again.

My sister took me to a dance where I met the man to whom I am now married. We hit it off at once though he had been married three times. Once he got his third divorce we were married and a couple of months later our twins came.

After all I ever heard was how lazy I was. Many a black eye I've carried. Another baby girl followed the twins, making six girls in all. Now never a week passes that my husband isn't drinking.

He doesn't run with other women, is a good worker, a wonderful gardener, and I dearly love his parents. But he has bent me so many times I can't forgive him. Maybe he is sick. I've begged him to go to a doctor. He won't. His brother and family say I'm a fool to put up with

Train Just Ran Out of Fuel

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—A Frisco Railroad passenger train ground to a halt 12 miles west of Springfield Tuesday. A short time later an embarrassed crew told passengers there was no fuel for the diesel engines.

Engineer R. Cochran of Tulsa, Okla., got word to Springfield and a fuel truck was dispatched to the stalled train.

A railroad spokesman said the train arrived at St. Louis more than an hour late. He said the employe responsible for filling the tanks at Oklahoma City failed to do so.

Catholics in Cuba Fear for Schools

By RICHARD VALERIANI

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Roman Catholic Church authorities fear that Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government soon will squeeze their schools out of operation.

A top-ranking church spokesman, who declined the use of his name, said in an interview that "possibility that the University of Villanueva will be functioning six months from now" appears doubtful.

The informant suggested that the government may demand "industrialization" courses in Cuba's private schools which Catholic institutions will not accept.

There are about 2,000 private schools in Cuba, 276 of them Catholic.

Castro recently attacked Villa-neva as a "pro-Yankee" college. Opened 14 years ago as Cuba's first private Catholic university, it began the year with 750 students, a drop of 200 from last year.

During this year about 300 more students have dropped out because of the exodus of upper and middle class families from Cuba.

It is financed mostly by donations and private grants, which have declined to almost nothing. Its unsalaried rector is Msgr.

Eduardo Boza Masvidal, auxiliary bishop of Havana, and its administrative staff consists almost entirely of American and Spanish priests of the Order of Saint Augustine. There are 120 lay professors, mostly Cuban.

Because Acera, the capital of Ghana, lacks a natural harbor, freighters anchor offshore and deliver freight in two-ton lots to boatmen who paddle a mile to shore in heavy swells.

Texas, Porks, A&M Figure in SW Cage Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Southwest Conference has kicked off its season tonight and there's reason to believe the league will make better than an average showing.

The defending champion, Texas, should be stronger, and certainly it won't lack for height. There are five players scoring 6 feet 7 or better and there are seven or more players taller than 6 feet 10.

Texas A&M and Arkansas should be the strongest competitors for Texas in its desire to regain the title and thus lengthen its lead in conference basketball history.

Texas has won more championships in the 46 campaigns than any other school. The Longhorns show nine with three ties.

The closest competitor is Arkansas, which has figured in as many championships as Texas, although only winning seven outright. The Razorbacks have tied for five.

The conference this year has its first seven-footer plus, it's Lewis Quals, who towers 7-1 and could make Texas A&M into a champion if he develops properly.

Next tallest youngster in the league is Wayne Clark of Texas, who is 6-11. There are three players 6-9 and a whole raft of "midgets" of 6-6.

Sugar Ray Must Knock Out Fuller

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson will have to knock out Gene Fuller within five rounds if he is to capture the National Boxing Association version of the world middleweight title.

That was the consensus today as the two battlers took matters easy and speculation continued over their 15-round fight to be nationally televised Saturday night in the Sports Arena.

Close observers of Robinson in his boxing drills at Gilman Hot Springs, 70 miles east of here felt that the 38-year-old New York veteran still packs a lethal left hook.

There is some doubt about what was once the most feared left-right combination in the business, and the once fine right-hand punch.

The only knockout in Fuller's career was registered by Robinson in five rounds in 1957 in the Garden for the championship.

"No, it was not a lucky punch," the victim recalled. "It was well timed, well executed."

Fuller, 29, from West Jordan, Utah, smiled. "I don't say he can't do it again because he can, but I'll be a little more alert and cautious, knowing what he can do," he said.

Arkansas Team Beats NE-Lc

MONROE, La. (AP) — Arkansas A&M gained a 54-52 basketball victory over Northeast Louisiana here Wednesday night when Kenneth James said a free shot with four seconds left in the game.

Northeast's Danny Johnson paced both teams with 20 points. Danny Chambers led A&M with 14 points.

Richardson Named Again by Triple A

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — A while back, Tommy Richardson, the new president of the International League, was reminding about the days when he was a kid.

"I had four jobs at one time and I made $8 a week out of all of them," he said. "I delivered hats, painted signs, ushered in a theater and made popcorn balls for a candy company."

That was 52 years ago when Richardson was only 13 and had to quit school to go to work because of the death of his father.

It points up one of the things that has made Richardson successful—hard work and energy.

For 2 years Richardson was president of the class A Eastern League and he kept it going during the lean days, at times when many minor leagues fell by the wayside.

He went after franchises to replace those which dropped out, by talking to major league clubs and selling them on giving the Eastern League working agreements.

As a tribute to Richardson's excellent work the Triple A International League meeting in Louisville, Ky., Wednesday unanimously elected him president to replace Frank Shaughnessy, who retired Sunday at the age of 77. He was given a one-year contract at $15,000.

Richardson lives in this central Pennsylvania community and maintains an auto business here.

McKay in Finals in Australia

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Barry McKay and Earl Buchholz, Jr. battled their way today into the final of the Victorian tennis championships, making it an all-American final for the first time in the 80-year history of the tourney.

Buchholz staged a fighting comeback to beat his fellow St. Louisan, Chuck McKinley, 3-6, 5-7, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4. McKay of Dayton, Ohio, whipped Mike Sangster of England 6-4, 10-8, 12-10 in the first semifinal match.

2 Fullbacks Take Honors Offensively

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A couple of hard-running fullbacks and a pair of sharp-throwing quarterbacks won the 160 individual offensive football titles of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Fullback Joe Incone of West Chester (Pa.) College won the rushing title with a game average of 152.1 yards. He carried the ball 168 times for 1,217 yards.

Herb Sutton, Ottawa (Kan.) University fullback, won the scoring title with 17 touchdowns and 23 conversions for 125 points.

The total offense crown went to Charles (Bo) Miller, Austin (Tex.) College quarterback, who averaged 21.84 yards in nine games. He completed 110 passes for 1,647 yards and picked up 31 yards rushing.

Dennis Spurlock completed 138 passes for 1,892 yards and 14 touchdowns to take the passing title and give team laurels to Whitworth (Wash.) College.

Golfers Just Can't Stop Palmer

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — If someone could figure out how to do it there probably would be a "stop Palmer" movement among the golfers assembled for the $15,000 West Palm Beach Open Tournament starting today at the West Palm Beach Country Club.

Arnold Palmer, the current Masters and U.S. Open champion returned to the tour last week after an absence of nearly two months and picked up practically where he left off.

He won the Mobile Ala. Open Sunday, earning $1,000 and set a record of 77.716 for one year's income in PGA tournaments. The top prize here also is $2,000, and nobody is betting Palmer won't take that, too.

Palmer has plenty of competition here, including the ageless Sam Snead, Cary Middlecott, Julius Boros, Bill Casper, Jr., Doug Ford, George Bayer, Art Wall Jr., Tommy Bolt and Ted Kroll.

Long Dist. Telephone Change Sat.

By RICHARD H. HOENIG

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A sweeping change in long-distance telephone service is being readied for the near future. In effect it will mean extension of the local or area calling concept—unlimited long-distance calls at a flat monthly rate.

The giant bell system of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is working on such a long-distance zone calling idea and hopes to have it ready for submission to the Federal Communications Commission in two weeks.

AT&T declines to elaborate on details of long-distance zone calling until the proposal is actually filed. "We are absolutely prohibited from discussing any details," a spokesman said.

However, the plan under consideration would permit a New York telephone subscriber, for example, to buy a service for a fixed monthly rate that would permit an unlimited number of calls to say, Chicago, Or, if he estimates he will be making 2 calls to Chicago monthly, he would be able to buy a service at a specified fee for possibly 30 three-minute calls to that city or any other phone number in the same zone.

The new system would divide the country into six zones. Customers could buy service to any one or combination of zones or even all six. For a specified fee that may run under $3,000 a month for one telephone line, a subscriber could make an unlimited number of three-minute calls to anywhere in the country. Overtime calls would be charged for on a time talked basis.

Whether the system would result in lower telephone bills remains uncertain.

Faubus Says Louisiana Desperate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Some Louisiana segregationists are "getting desperate" and "acting illogically," Gov. Orval F. Faubus said Wednesday in reporting he met recently with former Louisiana state Sen. William Rainach, a segregationist leader.

"He just wanted to discuss generalities" of the New Orleans school desegregation dispute, Faubus said of Rainach's unannounced visit to the Arkansas capitol about 10 days ago.

Faubus, himself the central figure of the 157 Little Rock integration dispute, didn't clarify his remarks. In a recent editorial in his Little Rock newspaper, the Arkansas Recorder, Faubus said federal court actions in Louisiana are destroying liberty.

Commenting on a proposal that the South withhold its electoral votes from President-elect John F. Kennedy, the governor said, "I can't see that Kennedy is at fault for what is happening." He added that Kennedy "most properly" has kept out of the New Orleans integration trouble.

The South's troubles are not with the Democrats but with President Eisenhower and U.S. Atty Gen William P. Rogers, Faubus said. Of a proposed bolt of Southern electors, Faubus said he felt the issue is dead "unless something happens to arouse the people."

College Cage Season Opens in Many Areas

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The "new look" college basketball season officially opens tonight in all parts of the country.

Last year the headlines went for the most part to Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Jerry West of West Virginia, Jerry Lucas of Ohio State, Darrel Imhoff of California, Lennie Wilkens of Providence, Leo Shaffer of North Carolina, Tom Sanders of NYU, Tony Jackson of St. John's and Tony Slieth of St. Bonaventure.

Of these, only Lucas and Tom Slieth and Jackson are back. Lucas is a junior, Jackson and Slieth are seniors.

Expected to come to the fore are such players as Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Roger Kaise of Georgia Tech, Bill (The Bull) McGuff of Utah, Dave DeBusschere of Detroit and a giant sophomore, 7-1, Lewis Qualls of Texas A&M.

Whether the Texas Aggies will threaten Texas for the Southwest Conference championship depends a lot on Qualls. He plays his first varsity game tonight, against Trinity of Texas.

The top opening night game is country will be in action by Saturday, the Ohio State encounter with Indiana.

Fighting in Venezuela Is Spreading

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) —

Three core leftist students, including a well-known student leader, were killed in their self-styled "Student Revolution" today. Disasters spread to half a dozen other cities.

President Romulo Betancourt's moderate Socialist government cracked down hard on his leftist enemies in an effort to crush the week-long "insurrection" of Communist-backed pro-Castro "Holding and student strike" which has resulted in eight deaths.

The government said disorders mainly hitting by high school students had spread to Maracaibo, the oil center, Barquisimeto, Venezuela's third largest city, Maracaibo, Portuguesa, Puerto a Cruz, and San Juan de los Morros, a health resort 10 miles southwest of the capital.

Oil fields are located near Maracaibo and Puerto a Cruz is the Caribbean terminus of an oil line and site of oil refineries.

Six persons, including the local Communist leader, Jesus Andia, were arrested at Maracaibo, in connection with the burning of the newspaper, La Patria, and thefts of arms. Maracaibo authorities closed the schools after some students held demonstrations in favor of Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba.

Belancourt, who charges that the rebels want to replace his government with a Castro-style regime, decided to disregard the traditional Latin American respect for universities as sanctuaries from police intervention. He ordered the disbanded leftists held up at Carabobo University removed.

But the band of defiant students again exchanged gunfire with National Guard troops.

Officials Drop Murder Charge

WASH. MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) —

A murder charge against James Earl Ray, 34, a Negro, in the fatal shooting of his 7-year-old nephew last week was dropped Wednesday, officials said.

James Earl Ray, Jr. of Memphis was struck by a bullet from a .22 caliber rifle which the father said he thought was unloaded.

DeGaulle to Explain

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle will go to Algeria to explain his plans for the rebellious territory on Dec. 8. It was announced today after a Cabinet meeting.

The Cabinet did not set a final date for the national referendum on De Gaulle's policy of giving Algeria a self-government. It agreed to do so at next week's meeting.

Information Minister Louis Joxe, however, said that Jean de Gaulle would not go to Algeria until the national referendum.

A student and a worker were killed and two students and three workers were wounded, the workers apparently were university employees caught in the cross-fire.

The leftists, who barricaded themselves in the building at the start of disorders last Friday, have clashed repeatedly with other students affiliated with the Communist Action Democratic and the Christian Socialist parties.

A Casserole Meal In 20 Minutes

Chicken is an all-time favorite dish, nearly everybody, even with colds, because of the many ways in which it can be prepared. Still newer ways are always welcome—and here's one from The Borden Kitchen combining chicken with cheese. A casserole dish, it is called "Deluxe Chicken 'N' Cheese." To save time the ingredients for the casserole can be prepared ahead of time and kept in the refrigerator. Then, just 20 minutes before meal time, the casserole can be put into a preheated oven, topped the chicken with shredded pasteurized process Gruyere cheese. Vegetables, noodles, seasonings and the remaining ingredients in this recipe make a meal which guarantees cries for "seconds" from the entire family.

Deluxe Chicken 'N' Cheese
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)
1 (4 to 5 lb.) stewing chicken, cut into 1 1/2 inch pieces
1 medium-size onion, quartered
2 cups cooked wide noodles
2 cups cooked lima beans
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup light cream or homogenized milk
Wash chicken; place in 4-quart kettle half-filled with salted water. Add onion; bring to boil; reduce heat and simmer until chicken is tender, about 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Remove chicken from broth, reserve 1/2 cup broth. Remove meat from bones; cut into 1/2 inch pieces. Arrange chicken in center of (1 1/2 quart) casserole; surround with lima beans; arrange noodles around edge. Sprinkle with flour. Blend cream, sherry, reserved chicken broth, parsley, pimiento, salt, pepper and 1/2 of the shredded cheese; pour over casserole. Sprinkle with remaining shredded cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 20 minutes or until cheese is melted and slightly browned.
*Remaining broth can be used for soups, flavoring, gravy, etc.

Growth Is the Key to Goals Promised

Editor's Note—A lengthy study by a presidential commission has set up a number of recommendations for national goals. These and other proposals almost certainly will be debated sharply in the months ahead as a new Democratic administration takes over. The commission's domestic goals are discussed in this first of a series of three articles by Sterling F. Green, veteran AP writer on economic affairs. Subsequent articles will deal with foreign affairs and with costs.

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several hundred goals for the 1960s were set before Americans this week by a White House commission. Yet one simple, overriding, all-essential word told the story—growth.
Growth to provide at least 13.5 million new jobs, growth to avoid higher taxes, growth to support new multimillion-dollar outlays for research and education growth to rebuild decayed downtowns, growth to arm more strongly against "grave danger."
Without economic growth at a rate apparently not less than one-sixth faster than American production has increased over the past 30 years, the commission says some of the nation's vital objectives will be lost its security and leadership endangered.
In such a case said the President's Commission on National Goals, Americans are going to have to sacrifice—perhaps by tax increases, loss of leisure time, a slower rise of living standards, and unaccustomed controls.
The commission said in this way: "If the growth rate is lower, it will impel consideration of higher taxes, increased quantity of labor and the greater individual effort and sacrifice exemplified by forced savings and reduced consumption."
This was the essence of the report filed with President Eisenhower by 11 distinguished Americans after 10 months of study. The White House released it Sunday.
On the home front the commission dealt with many matters not tied directly to economic policy—breaking down racial and religious bias, reducing juvenile delinquency, and reorganizing the government, to name a few.
But the central theme was that the United States must make a greater investment—of both private and public money—in its own future, or it will risk the loss both of world leadership and its own cherished freedoms.
The growth goal was stated mainly in terms of jobs. The target, said the commission, should be the fastest possible rate which is "consistent with primary dependence upon free enterprise and the avoidance of marked inflation."
What will that rate be? The commission was uncertain. One careful study, it said, suggests that the total output of goods and services can be boosted by 3.4 per cent a year—if unemployment is held consistently below 4 per cent and if a climate favorable to investment and research is maintained.

The report.
The average increase in gross national product recorded since 1939 has been 2.9 per cent.
The commission's proposals for insuring growth included many that will be cited in Congress next session when the hot issues of recent years are rekindled. They include federal aid to education, aid to depressed areas, medical care for the aged, tax revision, and civil rights.
Here are some of the specific targets:
EDUCATION—Yearly U. S. outlays must be doubled by 1970, to $40 billion. "The federal role must now be expanded."
The commission heaved to the line that education is "primarily a responsibility of the states" and shied away from an outright endorsement of federal aid for school construction. But it said that since 1787 the federal government has participated in the support of education "without destroying local initiative and responsibility."
TAXES—An "overhaul of the tax system" is necessary, whether tax rates go up or down, to improve the climate for new business investment. The changes said the commission should include more liberal depreciation deductions on business and industrial equipment to encourage modernization and investment.
AUTOMATION—Technological change should be encouraged but with careful advance planning to avoid hardship to those displaced by new machines and processes.
Where whole areas are left in distress, both state and federal governments should help provide loans and grants to assist the communities in attracting new industries and in retraining and relocating workers.
AGRICULTURE—Supply and demand must be brought into balance so that the market—instead, presumably, of federal subsidies—will provide farmers a fair return.
There should be "much increased retirement of farm land with emphasis on whole farms." But federal farm programs, including price supports, will be necessary for some time to come.
CITIES—Slum conditions must be remedied and the process of decay in big cities arrested, the commission said. It called for more urban renewal programs "costing as much as $4 billion a year."
HEALTH—Among a dozen recommendations in this field, the commission called for further efforts to reduce the burden of the cost of medical care.
"Extension of medical insurance is necessary, through both public and private agencies," it said.

Famous Doctor Goes to Hospital
HONG KONG (AP)—Dr. Thomas A. Dooley, cofounder of Medico, which operates hospitals in remote areas of Laos and other Southeast Asian nations, today entered St. Theresa's Hospital here with what hospital records listed as "sheer exhaustion."
Dooley said by telephone from his hospital room that his hospitalization was not directly attributable to lung cancer, for which he underwent surgery in 1959.
A medical source said there is held consistently below 4 per cent and if a climate favorable to investment and research is maintained.

Yet equally careful studies indicate that a 5 per cent growth can be achieved "without extraordinary stimulating measures," said

Appetites of Nation Shift to Roast Beef

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Appetites shift from turkey to beef this week.
That at least is the anticipation of supermarkets and neighborhood groceries.
Their weekend specials are topped by a variety of beef cuts—chuck pot, round, rump and rib roasts, round and flank steaks and tongue.
Hams and pork loins and shoulders and lamb legs also are on the list of top-advertised meats.
Meat prices are reported climbing as farmers hold back animals for more feeding. Hog prices reached a 1960 high last week. Choice steers are $2.50 a hundred pounds above October.
Fish specials along the Eastern Seaboard are codfish, haddock and halibut.
Egg prices dipped this week. The large whites, weighing from two to eight cents a dozen.
New arrivals on the vegetable market include South Carolina green cabbage, Cuban watermelons, Texas spinach and carrots, Florida Chinese and savory cabbage, world-beater and Anaheim peppers, cranberry beans and lima beans, Arizona Broccoli, Maine Katahdin potatoes and Jersey greens from the South.
Best vegetable buys are broccoli, broccoli rabe, brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, cucumbers, endive, escarole, green onions, lettuce, mushrooms, medium potatoes, onions, parsnips, Eastern potatoes, radishes, spinach and sweet potatoes.
Anise, green peas, tomatoes, best peppers and plain parsley are expensive.
Emperor grapes, cranberries and apples are the best buys among fruits. Avocados, Spanish melons, California oranges and Florida tangelos and tangerines Seaboard are codfish, haddock and halibut.

Remarks a Dept. Store Santa Hears

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a department store Santa Claus gets tired of hearing.
"Well, well, well—if it ain't the jolly Old Saint himself."
"Don't cry, Junior. Just the jolliest whiskers." Mommy'll buy you another one."
"What do I want for Christmas? I told you when I was here last week. Can't you remember?"
"McGillivuddy, when you go home tonight you might try practicing your chuckle in front of a mirror. It sounds pretty hollow."
"This morning we have 600 from the different kindergartens. This afternoon there are 600 from the nursery schools and tomorrow things really start getting tough."
"I'm from the Fire Department. Do you have a certificate proving your beard has been flame-tested in accordance with Paragraph 7, Section 2, Paragraph 3, of the city's fire laws?"
"That you, me brother's list Santa. Now let me read you mine. It's a lot longer."
"I know that uniform is pretty itchy, McGillivuddy. But it doesn't look right for you to be searching while you're supposed to be listening to the children."
"When he bends over to pick you up, Sis, grab his beard and pull hard. Then we'll find out for sure."
"I'm the business agent for Kris Kringle Local 312. Have you got a card in good standing?"
"Hey, whiskers, which way to the man's room?"
"No, darling, he's not God, and he's not Moses. They don't wear red suits."
"Pss-s-s. McGillivuddy, is that you? Your wife asked me to give you this grocery list. And she said to tell you that if Santa Claus drops off at any bars on the way home tonight, he'll show up for more their own size."

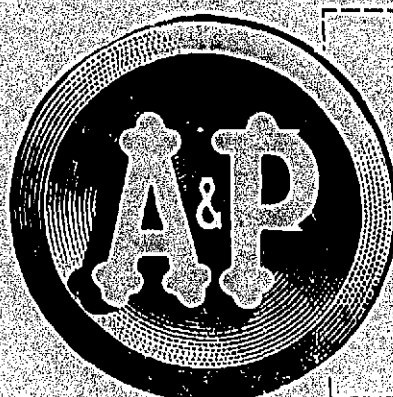

7 Sit-ins Jailed at Little Rock

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Seven young Negroes, one of them a girl, were taken into custody early this afternoon in a new sit-in demonstration at a lunch counter here.
Police said the seven were part of a group which sat at a segregated lunch counter at the Woolworth Co. store.
The group left on request, went to work tomorrow with a black eye, "I wish I had nothing to do all day but sit in a warm department store and listen to children."
"Would you mind telling my son just one more time what happens to little boys who don't eat their oatmeal?"
"Sorry, but I'll have to ask you to turn in your beard, McGillivuddy. The psychologist in our personnel department has decided we ought to finish the season with a midget as Santa Claus. He feels the children will have more confidence if they talk to someone home tonight, he'll show up for more their own size."

to the McCallan Co. store and left there briefly, the officers said.
The seven were taken into custody when they returned to the Woolworth store for another demonstration. Police Chief R. B. Glascock said.
No charges were filed immediately.
Thirteen Negro youths demonstrated at Woolworth Tuesday, but left on request of police and were not charged. The Tuesday demonstration was the first since several months ago when more than a dozen Negroes were arrested and convicted of violating state laws aimed at sit-ins. The convictions have been appealed.
Painter Dies
ROVERETO, Italy (AP)—Fortunato Depero, an Italian painter who was a leader of the futurist school a half century ago, died Tuesday of a heart attack. His futurist paintings, exhibited in New York and in many European cities between 1910 and 1930, are in many private collections.

Let's Talk Turkey

Yummy is the holiday turkey stuffed with a sausage and bread mixture, savory with seasonings and tossed lightly with a little beer to make it moist and aromatic.

The fifty Puritans and their ninety Indian guests at the first Thanksgiving dinner presumably drank beer, so why not be traditional and have beer or ale as the beverage on your holiday dinner table this year? The Pilgrims' menu featured many of the things we still enjoy on this holiday—turkey, seafood and seasonal vegetables.

Sausage Stuffing

- 1 pound sausage meat
- 1 cup onion, finely chopped
- 1/2 cup dried celery
- 1/2 cup chopped parsley
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon each, thyme, tarragon and nutmeg
- 4 cups soft bread cubes
- 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
- 1/2 cup beer or ale

Combine sausage meat, onion and celery in large skillet. Cook over medium heat until celery is tender. Drain drippings. Stir in parsley, seasonings and bread cubes. Combine Tabasco and beer; add to stuffing and toss lightly. Yield: Approximately 8 cups or enough for a 10-pound turkey.

Yam Souffle

- 2 cups (5 to 6 potatoes) mashed yams
- 1/2 cup beer or ale
- 1/4 cup heavy cream
- 1/4 cup melted butter
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 4 eggs, separated

Combine all ingredients except egg whites; beat until blended. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold into yam mixture. Turn into a buttered 1 1/2-quart casserole. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400°F.) 25 minutes or until browned. Yield: 6 servings.

TRIAL BY SLANDER

CHAPTER XXVII

Mr. Johnson looked as though he was not quite sure how to handle someone as well dressed as Janet.

"Did he by any chance, maybe only temporarily, deliver in White Plains?" she demanded.

Mr. Johnson drew back slightly, his eyebrows rising as he answered. "His assigned route was the Northern Westchester area. Once a driver has learned a route, we do not switch him around," he explained with a superior patience.

Janet's back lost its stiffness, and her shoulders sagged. Mr. Johnson seized his chance to make an escape, murmuring his sorrow at not being able to help. Janet turned and started for the door.

"Wait a sec." The boy who had been standing open-mouthed, his head bobbing from one to the other like a spectator at a tennis match, ducked under a narrow opening from behind the counter, the dawn of recognition lighting his face. He looked behind him; Mr. Johnson was not in sight. He looked pointedly at the brown alligator bag Janet carried under her arm. Janet's eyes followed his gaze, and she stiffened again. Then she barely nodded her head. "There was two weeks when Brick did take over a route here in White Plains," he said, his eyes riveted to her purse. "I remember he did because of the murder in that apartment over on North Broadway, Mrs. Hamilton." He drew out the syllables of her name.

Janet reached in her wallet and extracted a bill which she handed to him with distaste.

"Thank you," she said distantly. "By the way," she stopped, her hand on the door, "do you ever see this Brick now? Or do you know where I could reach him?"

"Nope. No idea," he answered, sliding the bill deftly into his hip pocket, an expression of alarm crossing his face as he turned to face Mr. Johnson, who had re-entered the front room.

"I'm sorry, Mrs. Hamilton," Mr. Johnson said. "Mike is right. I'd forgotten that short period when Brick replaced one of our drivers who was sick." He, too, had remembered her name. His dark eyes snapped behind his rimless glasses, and he watched her leave with far more interest than he had previously displayed.

Janet reviewed her newly discovered facts during the difficult journey home. Although the snow came down slowly, it was fairly deep by now, forcing her to drive

Everything Is Fine With the Kennedys

WASHINGTON (AP)—Everything is fine with 6-day-old John F. Kennedy Jr. and his mother, and Mrs. Kennedy definitely plans to take the baby along when she goes to Florida to recuperate.

The doctors made that report just in advance of today's first visit by the president-elect to his wife and son.

Kennedy slipped away from his home between callers to walk to Georgetown Hospital in the near-freezing weather.

Accompanied by a small detail of Secret Service agents and trailed by newsmen, Kennedy stopped at one point to talk briefly with girl students of Georgetown Visitation Academy, next door to the hospital.

"Everything's beautifully normal," Dr. John W. Walsh said today of his patient, Mrs. Kennedy.

Dr. Edward B. Brooks, the baby's doctor, told reporters: "The baby is fine; he is very active, his color is good, he's eating nicely and he hasn't had oxygen for 3 hours."

The baby is staying in the incubator for warmth but Dr. Brooks said he would be moved some time this afternoon from the premature nursery to a private nursery across the hall from Mrs. Kennedy's room. He has been in the incubator since birth, a procedure normal in cases of premature Caesarean birth.

Denies Americans Seeking Stock

LONDON (AP)—Handley Page, Britain's oldest aircraft building firm, issued a statement today denying it has received a $16 million offer from an American corporation for enough stock to control the British company.

The statement issued at Handley Page's London headquarters said that it has been engaging in negotiations with an American company on many matters, but these do not include the sale of the company to American interests.

carefully.

She pulled into the village a little after three, making the market her first stop. She placed an order for a Christmas turkey, reading as she did so she had forgotten to eat lunch. She had a sandwich and coffee at the drugstore opposite the market, picked up some books at the library, then, tired yet exhilarated by the elements' challenge, she drove up to the side door at the church where Johnny and Bruce waited.

It was already dark and there were stops to make on the way home.

Once the car had been maneuvered into the garage, almost an hour later, she unloaded her bundles and headed straight for the telephone. Cliff was not at home. The evening meal was marred by Junior's strange disappearance. Junior came and went, preferring the outdoors both in good weather and in bad. But when his supper time passed without a sign of him, the boys left the table repeatedly to stand at the back door whistling and calling for the brown and white dog, who, gradually, had replaced Brownie in their affections.

After dinner she tried Cliff again. Billy said he hadn't come in yet. There had been a car accident on some slippery side road. She sent the boys to bed much earlier than usual. There still had been no demanding bark, no nails scratching at any of the three outside doors to herald Junior's return.

She stepped onto the little back porch, whistling and calling, "Here, Junior... here, Junior..." There was no response. It was warmer now although the sky continued to look black and ominous. She glanced down at the snow, hoping it would remain for at least a day or two.

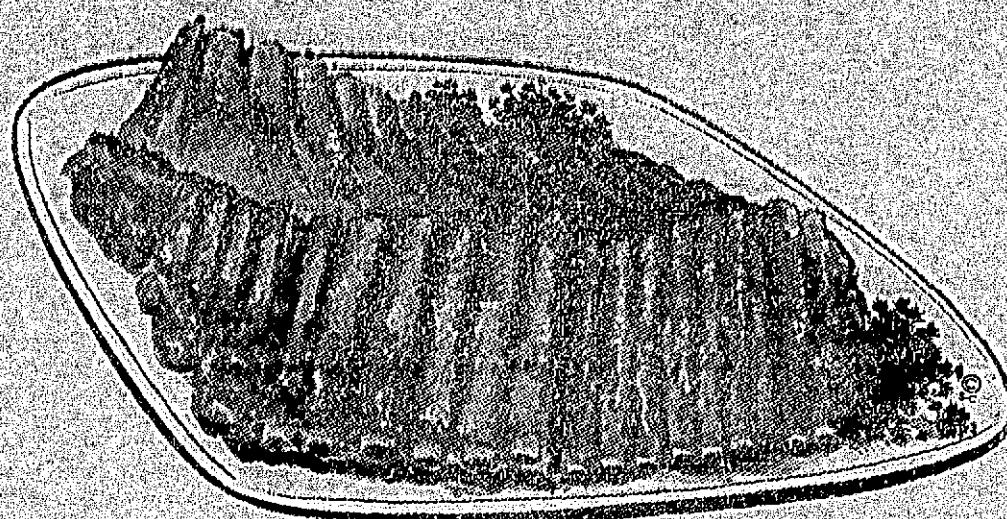

She stopped to look again at the glowering sky, then looked down at the snow and noticed footprints leading from the woods to the back door.

As the sound of her footsteps echoed from the second floor, the handle of the door leading to the basement from the kitchen turned softly. The door opened a crack, remained slightly ajar. There was a stifled sound of irregular breathing from the top basement step. A foot edged cautiously onto the bare linoleum, then jerked back out of sight with an abrupt movement.

She went into her own room, hesitating as she remembered that she had not checked the basement. But the idea of another trip up and down stairs tired her. A barely discernible squeak accompanied the stealthy turn of the basement doorknob. Slowly... slowly it inched open. Back of the silence a faint whimper could be heard. It was followed by a sudden intake of breath, haltingly released then a relieved self-satisfied sigh. Again a foot touched cold linoleum, and a hand gripped the door's edge.

Old Favorite—New Taste Version

Autumn brings us riotous colors, newly bountiful gardens, and best of all, pumpkin pie. But tastes, like times, change and today's families vote for up-to-date, tantalizing additions to standard favorites. They want pumpkin pie spiced with zippy ginger, nutmeg and cinnamon, certainly. But they demand a thickened-textured filling that also appeases their hearty appetites.

Tangy nutmeg and cinnamon are here aplenty. Brown sugar adds an enticing sweetness. But the smooth-textured filling comes from the use of evaporated milk. The blendable qualities complement every ingredient and each flavor, to assure you of taste-tempting success every time.

The family will love your "new" pumpkin pie and friends who drop by will want your "secret" ingredient. But it really is no secret. Pumpkin pie, made with always dependable and easily available evaporated milk, is a treat any family can enjoy. They can have it with a crunchy, cracker crust or a pastry shell, whichever they prefer. Either way there'll be demands for seconds.

Pumpkin Clifton Pie

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar, divided
- 1/2 teaspoon each, salt, nutmeg and ginger
- 1/2 cup evaporated milk
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1 1/2 cups canned pumpkin
- 1 9-inch baked crumb* or pastry pie shell

Mix together gelatine, 1/4 cup of the brown sugar, salt and spices in medium saucepan. Stir in evaporated milk and egg yolks; blend well. Place over low heat and cook, stirring constantly, until gelatine dissolves and mixture thickens slightly (about 3 minutes). Remove from heat; stir in pumpkin. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon (about 1 hour). Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining 1/4 cup of brown sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into pumpkin mixture. Turn into pie shell; chill until firm (4 to 6 hours or overnight). Yield: 4 9-inch pies.

Tuna Shapes A Loaf

Baked tuna loaf is a main dish passed along by praise and pipe from mother to daughter. It has earned status because of the well-liked flavor of tuna. Also, the loaf slices neatly and has main dish heartiness and identity.

Two of the 6 1/2- or 7-ounce cans of tuna combined with bread crumbs, milk and eggs provide a generous loaf of six servings. Use of the vegetable oil in which tuna is packed gives the loaf additional moistness and flavor. Favorite herbs, of course, may be added for any seasoning preferred by the family. Serve "as is" or with an accompanying tomato, mushroom or cheese sauce.

Tuna Loaf
2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
2 cups soft bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
3 cans (6 1/2 or 7-ounces each) tuna-in-vegetable oil

Combine eggs, milk, bread crumbs and seasonings in large mixing bowl. Beat until blended. Mix in tuna. Turn into foil-lined 9 1/2 x 7 1/2 x 2 1/2-inch loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 45 minutes. Lift out of pan; remove foil. Yield: 6 servings.

Revolt in Argentina Said Crushed

BUNOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A rightist revolt broke out in Northern Argentina today shortly after a similar uprising was reported crushed by the government near Buenos Aires.

Reports from Sala in the north said a group of armed civilians occupied oil installations in two towns of Sala Province.

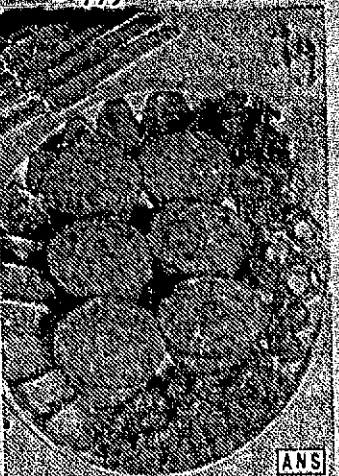

These accounts said the civilians also took over the state oil monopoly in the two towns. Tarragui and Vespucio, Sala is a sugar and oil producing province adjoining the Bolivian and Chilean borders.

Earlier in the day, civilian followers of ousted Dictator Juan D. Peron tried to seize the military barracks in Rosario near this capital, but were routed by troops after four hours of fighting, the government announced.

Unofficial reports said 10 persons were killed and 50 wounded at Rosario. These advances said about 25 civilians were arrested. There were no estimates of

I could recommend investment outside continental United States," And Utah, George D. Clyde: "There are too many people who want something for nothing and (have) a lack of interest in real hard work."

Jiffy Dinner

HOME LATE from bridge party with barely time to get dinner for a hungry family? Surprise them with this quick to make, deliciously different ground beef dinner.

15-MINUTE MEAT LOAVES
2 beaten eggs
1 cup rolled bread crumbs
1 lb. ground beef
2 tbsps. A.I. Steak Sauce
1 tsp. salt
5/8 cup milk

Pre-heat oven to 450°. Pack meat mixture level or slightly rounded into greased muffin pans. Bake 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Indicated that Peronists also were involved there. In both cases, the uprising was staged by armed civilians.

Insurgents in the north cut railway tracks and telephone lines first reports from Sala said. The army declared the uprising in the north was similar to the one put down at Rosario. This

Those Good Old Days Not So Good

By BOB HARING
Associated Press Staff Writer

Those "good old days" really were good, weren't they? Or were they?

A modern housewife with electric gadgets up to and including automatic dishwashers and can openers might ponder a "recipe" for washing as it was done in the time of a grandmother of Mrs. Eugene Ritter of near Batesville.

Mrs. Ritter's formula with spelling in "good old days" is:

Build fire in back yard to heat kettle of water.
Set tub so smoke won't blow in eyes if wind is north.
Shave one hole in soap in bill water.

Sort things. Make three piles: one pile white, one pile colored, one pile work clothes and rags. Stir flour in cold water to smooth then wash down with bill.

Conway's telephone exchange was converted to dial recently and some folks are having their troubles adjusting to the new system.

One man called Jack Ross, who wire chief, to complain he couldn't get any answer when he dialed Ross asked if he had dialed his number correctly.

"I guess I did," the man replied. "I dialed F-A-T-T-E-R-W and the number and didn't get anything."

Payview is the Conway prefix. But it's dialed PA with five numbers. The complainant had actually dialed 13 numbers.

Conway boasts a cousin—distant—Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

He's Frank B. Johnson who says his grandfather both were natives of Mt. Pleasant, Miss., who left there prior to the Civil War.

Attorneys Try to Agree on Jury

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Opposing attorneys try today to agree on the final jury for the third murder trial of Frank Andrew Payne.

The panels were exhausted Tuesday in selecting 12 male jurors, one a Negro and another panel was ordered to be off hand today.

Payne, a Negro, is charged in the 1955 slaying of a white player, J. N. Robertson, a Pine Bluff lumber dealer.

Robertson was beaten to death in his office and robbed of several hundred dollars.

The 24-year-old Payne has twice been convicted and sentenced to death, but the convictions were overturned on appeals to the U.S. Supreme Court and the Arkansas Supreme Court.

The prosecution again is asking the death penalty.

Investors to Look Again at S. America

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American investors are taking a new look at Latin America. They've poured nearly $9 billion into it. And stockholders of American companies with about $1 billion invested in Cuba have seen their assets seized. Castro-like anti-Americanism rumbles today in other Latin lands.

But both the present and incoming administrations are on record as favoring more aid private and governmental, to Latin development wants and needs.

Twenty-eight U.S. governors just back from looking over investment possibilities in Argentina and Brazil express views on the risk today that range from enthusiasm, caution, plain bearish.

American manufacturers already have stepped up their expenditures this year. The Department of Commerce reports they are pouring nearly $75 million more into Brazil this year for new plant and equipment. In Argentina expenditures have risen to $70 million this year more than double the 1957-59 average.

Total U.S. investments are put at $13 billion in Brazil and $517 million in Argentina.

The views of the returning American governors were obtained by Alan Hathaway, managing editor of the Long Island paper, Newsday.

On one thing they seem agreed Argentina and Brazil have more than four million square miles high in potentials for agriculture and hydroelectric power and rich in mineral deposits. In both countries the areas are waiting and anxious to be developed.

The questions private American investors will be asking the governors: Are Latin-American investments in general safe from future government interference? Are prospects of returns greater than the foreseeable risks?

Here are the views of some of the governors as copyrighted by Newsday: First, the enthusiastic ones:

Arizona, Paul Fannin: "On investment I feel there is a great potential, and Brazil has the great material resources." California, Edmund G. Brown: "I would recommend that industry invest in either country." Colorado, Stephen McNichols: "Looks like a sound opportunity."

But a note of caution is sounded by some.

Indiana, Harold W. Handley: "Investment advisability is predicated on stability in government." Kansas, George Docking: "Would depend on whether an industry had enough properly trained people to come down to live and supervise." Minnesota, Orville Freeman: "I was impressed with the difference between the historic development and institutions of North and South America, and I wonder why this is so."

Opinions leanings toward the bearish:

Iowa, Hershel C. Loveless: "I do not believe that as a govern-

You'll Relish This Relish

Grapefruit and cranberries combine to make a tasty and attractive relish for holiday dinner tables. Both the raw and cooked versions of the relish can be stored for several weeks so why not make up some now for your own Thanksgiving and Christmas menus and to give as gifts, too?

Although Florida citrus suffered some hurricane damage this year, there is still plenty of quality fruit available in local markets to enjoy often and in a variety of ways. Citrus is one of the richest sources of daily-needed vitamin C so Florida oranges and grapefruit are a good investment in health as well as pleasure.

How Relish:
2 cups fresh cranberries
1 cup sugar
1 Florida grapefruit, sectioned

Put cranberries through food chopper. Add sugar; mix well. Dice Florida grapefruit sections; stir into cranberry mixture. Chill. * Yield: 3 1/2 cups.

Cooked Relish:
2 cups fresh cranberries
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup sugar
1 Florida grapefruit, sectioned

Combine cranberries, water and sugar in saucepan. Bring to a boil; boil until berries pop. Remove from heat. Dice Florida grapefruit sections; stir into cranberry mixture. Chill. * Yield: 2 1/2 cups. * Both these relishes will store well in refrigerator several weeks.

Took 3 Years for Evidence on Dr. Soble

By HAL MCCLURE

NEW YORK (AP) — A New York psychiatrist arrested as a 20-year Soviet spy never tried to escape his shadowers during a long "hot surveillance" by FBI agents, says his attorney.

On the contrary, the doctor even stopped his car so that trailing agents could catch up with him, the lawyer said.

The psychiatrist, Dr. Robert Soble 60, was held in $75,000 bail for a federal court hearing Dec. 20. Soble, whose legal name is Soblen, is a brother of confessed Soviet spy Jack Soble, 57, serving a seven-year prison term for espionage.

The government charged that the brothers were involved in separate espionage rings that sought national defense secrets for transmission to the Soviet Union. Both brothers were naturalized in 1947.

Dr. Soble if convicted could receive the death penalty. The doctor suffers from a serious illness, his attorney said.

Soble was arrested at noon Tuesday at Rockland State Hospital, in suburban Orangeburg where he has served as supervising psychiatrist.

The indictment by a federal grand jury also named 18 co-conspirators, none of whom are defendants. They include several Soviet officials and four Americans.

It took the government three years to collect evidence for an indictment against Dr. Soble.

Apparently, Soble made friends among FBI agents who arrested him. He asked Judge William B. Herlands if he could say goodbye to "the FBI gentlemen."

Herlands smiled and gave his permission. The doctor bowed from the waist and waved to the FBI agents. "Thank you very much gentlemen," he said.

The government said the Soble brothers were born in Lithuania and during the 1930s roamed Europe as Communist agents for the Soviet secret police.

The indictment charged that in 1940 Jack Soble met the late Lav-

No Oral Vaccine by Next Summer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surgeon General Leroy B. Burney said today the Public Health Service feels that "we cannot expect" to have an oral polio virus vaccine for use by next summer.

Burney said that in developing the recently approved vaccine made of live polio virus as distinguished from the Salk vaccine already in use there are still many problems to be worked out. "These problems have been by no means resolved," Burney said in an address to the American Medical Association's annual clinical meeting.

Tax Take Is Up by $1.3 Millions

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — November tax collections in Arkansas increased $1,318,152 over the total for November, 1959, Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney said today.

Cheney's monthly revenue report for November showed collections of $13,976,122, compared to $12,257,970 for the same month last year.

Sales tax collections amounted to $1,725,686, only $80,150 more than last year.

Cheney said this indicated a leveling off in the economy. The largest item increase was income tax which brought in $3,426,926, compared to $2,856,014 last year.

During the first five months of the fiscal year, Cheney said, Arkansas has collected $64,612,955 compared to $60,309,077 during the same period last year.

Receding Hairline Proved Fatal

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Surrounded by bottles of hair tonic, Frederick Barr, 23, shot himself to death at his home.

His father and brother told an inquest the youth had only one worry—his hairline was receding and he feared he would become bald.

The coroner returned a verdict of "suicide while the balance of the mind was disturbed."
